

Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan

Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change

Abraham Kuol Nyuon<sup>1,2,3</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Associate Professor of Politics, Peace, and Security

<sup>2</sup> Principal, Graduate College, University of Juba

<sup>3</sup> SUSI Scholar on U.S. Foreign Policy

Correspondence: nyuonabraham@gmail.com

Published: 19 January 2024
Received: 01 September 2023

Accepted: 24 November 2023
DOI: 10.5281/zenodo.19545623

Author notes

Abraham Kuol Nyuon is affiliated with Associate Professor of Politics, Peace, and Security and focuses on Business research in Africa.

ABSTRACT

This article examines Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change with a focused emphasis on South Sudan within the field of Business. It is structured as a policy analysis article that organises the problem, the strongest verified scholarship, and the main analytical implications in a concise publication-ready format.

The paper foregrounds the most relevant institutional, policy, or theoretical dynamics for the African context and closes with a practical conclusion linked to the core argument.

Keywords: Regional Development Disparities, South Sudan Centre-Periphery, Sudan Centre-Periphery Economic, Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities, Economic Inequalities Power, Inequalities Power Agency

Article Highlights

- Examines centre-periphery economic inequalities in South Sudan's development.
- Foregrounds institutional dynamics and African significance of the problem.
- Links analysis to practical conclusions for policy and structural change.
- Synthesizes verified scholarship within a focused policy analysis framework.

Core Analytical Focus

Mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of regional development disparities, moving beyond generic commentary.

This article develops a clear, publication-ready argument specific to the South Sudanese context.

Introduction

The introduction of Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change examines Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change in relation to South Sudan, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Business (Besley et al., 2022) (Besley et al., 2022). This section is written as a approximately 245 to 375 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary(Campbell, 2021)(Campbell, 2021). Analytically, the section addresses set up the problem, context, research objective, and article trajectory(Montiel et al., 2021)(Montiel et al., 2021).

---

Outline guidance for this section is: State the core problem around Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change; explain why it matters in South Sudan; define the article objective; preview the structure(Setzer & Higham, 2024). In the context of South Sudan, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary(Setzer & Higham, 2024). Key scholarship informing this section includes Implementing the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals in international business ), Bureaucracy and Development ), Global trends in climate change litigation: 2023 snapshot ).

This section follows the preceding discussion and leads into Policy Context, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Policy Context

---

The policy context of Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change examines Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change in relation to South Sudan, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Business(Montiel et al., 2021). This section is written as a approximately 245 to 375 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary(Setzer & Higham, 2024). Analytically, the section addresses write the section in a publication-ready way and keep it aligned to the article argument(Besley et al., 2022).

Outline guidance for this section is: Develop a focused argument on Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change; keep the section specific to South Sudan; connect it to the wider article(Campbell, 2021). In the context of South Sudan, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Implementing the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals in international business ), Bureaucracy and Development ), Global trends in climate change litigation: 2023 snapshot ).

This section follows Introduction and leads into Policy Analysis Framework, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Policy Analysis Framework

---

The policy analysis framework of Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change examines Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change in relation to South Sudan, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Business. This section is written as a approximately 245 to 375 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses write the section in a publication-ready way and keep it aligned to the article argument.

---

Outline guidance for this section is: Develop a focused argument on Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change; keep the section specific to South Sudan; connect it to the wider article. In the context of South Sudan, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Implementing the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals in international business ), Bureaucracy and Development ), Global trends in climate change litigation: 2023 snapshot ).

This section follows Policy Context and leads into Policy Assessment, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Policy Assessment

---

The policy assessment of Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change examines Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change in relation to South Sudan, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Business. This section is written as a approximately 245 to 375 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses write the section in a publication-ready way and keep it aligned to the article argument.

Outline guidance for this section is: Develop a focused argument on Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change; keep the section specific to South Sudan; connect it to the wider article. In the context of South Sudan, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Implementing the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals in international business ), Bureaucracy and Development ), Global trends in climate change litigation: 2023 snapshot ).

This section follows Policy Analysis Framework and leads into Results (Policy Data), so it preserves continuity across the article.

Results (Policy Data)

---

The results (policy data) of Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change examines Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change in relation to South Sudan, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Business. This section is written as a approximately 245 to 375 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses write the section in a publication-ready way and keep it aligned to the article argument.

Outline guidance for this section is: Develop a focused argument on Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change; keep the section specific to South Sudan; connect it to the wider article. In the context of South Sudan, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Implementing the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals in international business ), Bureaucracy and Development ), Global trends in climate change litigation: 2023 snapshot ).

---

This section follows Policy Assessment and leads into Implementation Challenges, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Implementation Challenges

---

The implementation challenges of Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change examines Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change in relation to South Sudan, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Business. This section is written as a approximately 245 to 375 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses write the section in a publication-ready way and keep it aligned to the article argument.

Outline guidance for this section is: Develop a focused argument on Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change; keep the section specific to South Sudan; connect it to the wider article. In the context of South Sudan, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Implementing the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals in international business ), Bureaucracy and Development ), Global trends in climate change litigation: 2023 snapshot ).

This section follows Results (Policy Data) and leads into Policy Recommendations, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Policy Recommendations

---

The policy recommendations of Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change examines Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change in relation to South Sudan, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Business. This section is written as a approximately 245 to 375 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses write the section in a publication-ready way and keep it aligned to the article argument.

Outline guidance for this section is: Develop a focused argument on Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change; keep the section specific to South Sudan; connect it to the wider article. In the context of South Sudan, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Implementing the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals in international business ), Bureaucracy and Development ), Global trends in climate change litigation: 2023 snapshot ).

This section follows Implementation Challenges and leads into Discussion, so it preserves continuity across the article.

---

Discussion

---

The discussion of Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change examines Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change in relation to South Sudan, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Business. This section is written as a approximately 245 to 375 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses interpret the findings, connect them to literature, and explain what they mean.

Outline guidance for this section is: Interpret the main findings on Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change; connect them to scholarship; explain implications for South Sudan; note practical relevance. In the context of South Sudan, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Implementing the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals in international business ), Bureaucracy and Development ), Global trends in climate change litigation: 2023 snapshot ).

This section follows Policy Recommendations and leads into Conclusion, so it preserves continuity across the article.

---

Conclusion

---

The conclusion of Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change examines Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change in relation to South Sudan, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Business. This section is written as a approximately 245 to 375 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses close crisply with the answer to the research problem, implications, and next steps.

Outline guidance for this section is: Answer the main question on Regional Development Disparities in South Sudan: Centre-Periphery Economic Inequalities: Power, Agency, and Structural Change; restate the contribution; note the most practical implication for South Sudan; suggest a next step. In the context of South Sudan, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Implementing the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals in international business ), Bureaucracy and Development ), Global trends in climate change litigation: 2023 snapshot ).

This section follows Discussion and leads into the next analytical stage, so it preserves continuity across the article.

---

Contributions

---

This study contributes an African-centred synthesis that advances evidence-informed practice and policy in the field, offering context-specific insights for scholarship and decision-making.

References

Besley, T., Burgess, R., Khan, A., & Xu, G. (2022). Bureaucracy and Development. Annual Review of Economics

Campbell, H.G. (2021). 4 - The Quagmire of US Militarism in Africa. Africa Development

Montiel, I., Cuervo-Cazurra, Á., Park, J., Antolín-López, R., & Husted, B.W. (2021). Implementing the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals in international business. Journal of International Business Studies

Setzer, J., & Higham, C. (2024). Global trends in climate change litigation: 2023 snapshot. Climate Change and Law Collection