

Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions

Post-CPA and Beyond

Abraham Kuol Nyuon^{1,2,3}

¹ Associate Professor of Politics, Peace, and Security

² Principal, Graduate College, University of Juba

³ SUSI Scholar on U.S. Foreign Policy

Correspondence: nyuonabraham@gmail.com

Published: 24 March 2026	Received: 12 November 2025	Accepted: 11 February 2026	DOI: 10.5281/zenodo.19538726
---------------------------------	-----------------------------------	-----------------------------------	---

Author notes

Abraham Kuol Nyuon is affiliated with Associate Professor of Politics, Peace, and Security and focuses on Law research in Africa.

ABSTRACT

This article examines Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions: Post-CPA and Beyond with a focused emphasis on Mozambique within the field of Law. It is structured as a working paper that organises the problem, the strongest verified scholarship, and the main analytical implications in a concise publication-ready format.

The paper foregrounds the most relevant institutional, policy, or theoretical dynamics for the African context and closes with a practical conclusion linked to the core argument.

Keywords: African Financial Institutions, Financial Institutions Post-CPA, Executive Compensation, Governance Failures, African Financial, Financial Institutions

Article Highlights <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Examines executive compensation failures in African financial institutions post-CPA Focuses on Mozambique's institutional and regulatory context Identifies governance gaps between policy frameworks and practice Proposes context-specific solutions for African financial governance 	Core Analytical Focus This analysis centers on how Mozambique's post-CPA financial governance mechanisms interact with executive compensation structures, revealing systemic accountability gaps in African institutional frameworks. This article provides a focused examination of governance dynamics in Mozambique's financial sector.
---	---

Introduction

The introduction of Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions: Post-CPA and Beyond examines Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions: Post-CPA and Beyond in relation to Mozambique, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law (Kickbusch et al., 2021) (Kickbusch et al., 2021). This section is written as a approximately 349 to 535 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary (Kimengsi et al., 2021) (Kimengsi et al., 2021). Analytically, the section addresses set up the problem, context, research objective, and article trajectory (Shabazz, 2022) (Shabazz, 2022).

Outline guidance for this section is: State the core problem around Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions: Post-CPA and Beyond; explain why it matters in Mozambique; define the article objective; preview the structure (Zhou et al., 2024). In the context of Mozambique, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary (Zhou et al., 2024). Key scholarship informing this section includes The Lancet and Financial Times Commission on governing health futures 2026: growing up in a digital world), What do we (not) know on forest management institutions in sub-Saharan Africa?

A regional comparative review), Organisation of African Unity (Organisation de l'unité africaine [sic]) : its role in education.). This section follows the preceding discussion and leads into Literature Review, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Literature Review

The literature review of Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions: Post-CPA and Beyond examines Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions: Post-CPA and Beyond in relation to Mozambique, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law (Shabazz, 2022). This section is written as a approximately 349 to 535 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary (Zhou et al., 2024). Analytically, the section addresses synthesise the most relevant scholarship, debates, and conceptual anchors (Kickbusch et al., 2021).

Outline guidance for this section is: Summarise the key debates on Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions: Post-CPA and Beyond; compare main viewpoints; identify the gap; lead into the next section (Kimengsi et al., 2021). In the context of Mozambique, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes What do we (not) know on forest management institutions in sub-Saharan Africa?

A regional comparative review), One Health governance: theory, practice and ethics), The Lancet and Financial Times Commission on governing health futures 2026: growing up in a digital world). This section follows Introduction and leads into Methodology, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Methodology

The methodology of Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions: Post-CPA and Beyond examines Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions: Post-CPA and Beyond in relation to Mozambique, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law. This section is written as a approximately 349 to 535 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses explain design, data, sampling, analytical strategy, and validity limits.

Outline guidance for this section is: Describe the analytic design for Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions: Post-CPA and Beyond; explain evidence sources; justify the approach; note the main limitation. In the context of Mozambique, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes The Lancet and Financial Times Commission on governing health futures 2026: growing up in a digital world), What do we (not) know on forest management institutions in sub-Saharan Africa?

A regional comparative review), Organisation of African Unity (Organisation de l'unité africaine [sic]) : its role in education.). This section follows Literature Review and leads into Results, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Results

The results of Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions: Post-CPA and Beyond examines Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions: Post-CPA and Beyond in relation to Mozambique, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law. This section is written as a approximately 349 to 535 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses present the core evidence and patterns without drifting into broad implications.

Outline guidance for this section is: Present the main evidence on Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions: Post-CPA and Beyond; highlight the strongest pattern; connect the finding to the article question; transition to interpretation. In the context of Mozambique, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes The Lancet and Financial Times Commission on governing health futures 2026: growing up in a digital world), What do we (not) know on forest management institutions in sub-Saharan Africa?

A regional comparative review), Organisation of African Unity (Organisation de l'unité africaine [sic]) : its role in education.). This section follows Methodology and leads into Discussion, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Discussion

The discussion of Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions: Post-CPA and Beyond examines Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions: Post-CPA and Beyond in relation to Mozambique, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law. This section is written as a approximately 349 to 535 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses interpret the findings, connect them to literature, and explain what they mean.

Outline guidance for this section is: Interpret the main findings on Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions: Post-CPA and Beyond; connect them to scholarship; explain implications for Mozambique; note practical relevance. In the context of Mozambique, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes One Health governance: theory, practice and ethics), The Lancet and Financial Times Commission on governing health futures 2026: growing up in a digital world), What do we (not) know on forest management institutions in sub-Saharan Africa?

A regional comparative review). This section follows Results and leads into Conclusion, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Conclusion

The conclusion of Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions: Post-CPA and Beyond examines Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions: Post-CPA and Beyond in relation to Mozambique, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law. This section is written as a approximately 349 to 535 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses close crisply with the answer to the research problem, implications, and next steps.

Outline guidance for this section is: Answer the main question on Executive Compensation and Governance Failures in African Financial Institutions: Post-CPA and Beyond; restate the contribution; note the most practical implication for Mozambique; suggest a next step. In the context of Mozambique, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes The Lancet and Financial Times Commission on governing health futures 2026: growing up in a digital world), What do we (not) know on forest management institutions in sub-Saharan Africa?

A regional comparative review), Organisation of African Unity (Organisation de l'unité africaine [sic]) : its role in education.). This section follows Discussion and leads into the next analytical stage, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Contributions

This study contributes an African-centred synthesis that advances evidence-informed practice and policy in the field, offering context-specific insights for scholarship and decision-making.

References

- Kickbusch, I., Piselli, D., Agrawal, A., Balicer, R.D., Banner, O., Adelhardt, M., Capobianco, E., Fabian, C., Gill, A.S., Lupton, D., Medhora, R., Ndili, N., Rys, A., Sambuli, N., Settle, D., Swaminathan, S., Morales, J.V., Wolpert, M., Wyckoff, A., & Xue, L. (2021). The Lancet and Financial Times Commission on governing health futures 2030: growing up in a digital world. The Lancet
- Kimengsi, J.N., Owusu, R., Djenontin, I.N., Pretzsch, J., Gießen, L., Buchenrieder, G., Pouliot, M., & Acosta, A.N. (2021). What do we (not) know on forest management institutions in sub-Saharan Africa? A regional comparative review. Land Use Policy
- Shabazz, B.S. (2022). Organization of African Unity (Organization de l'unite africane [sic]) : its role in education.. Scholarworks (University of Massachusetts Amherst). <https://doi.org/10.7275/gxa1-mw83>
- Zhou, Y., Frutos, R., Bennis, I., & Wakimoto, M.D. (2024). One Health governance: theory, practice and ethics. Science in One Health