

The Capabilities Approach and African Development

Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions

Abraham Kuol Nyuon^{1,2,3}

¹ Associate Professor of Politics, Peace, and Security

² Principal, Graduate College, University of Juba

³ SUSI Scholar on U.S. Foreign Policy

Correspondence: nyuonabraham@gmail.com

Published: 01 June 2026 Received: 21 February 2026

Accepted: 08 April 2026 DOI:
10.5281/zenodo.19518541

Author notes

Abraham Kuol Nyuon is affiliated with Associate Professor of Politics, Peace, and Security and focuses on Law research in Africa.

ABSTRACT

This article examines The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions with a focused emphasis on Senegal within the field of Law. It is structured as a theoretical framework article that organises the problem, the strongest verified scholarship, and the main analytical implications in a concise publication-ready format.

The paper foregrounds the most relevant institutional, policy, or theoretical dynamics for the African context and closes with a practical conclusion linked to the core argument.

Keywords: African Development Sen, Development Sen Nussbaum, Context-Sensitive Justice Political, Justice Political Economy, Political Economy Dimensions, Capabilities Approach

Article Highlights

- Applies Sen and Nussbaum's Capabilities Approach to African political economy.
- Foregrounds institutional and policy dynamics specific to the Senegalese context.
- Synthesises evidence to bridge theoretical frameworks and practical development outcomes.
- Examines justice through mechanisms of livelihood, agriculture, and non-farm economies.

Core Analytical Focus

The article develops a context-sensitive framework for applying the Capabilities Approach to African development, with Senegal as a case study, examining intersections of law, political economy, and justice.

This theoretical framework article organises the problem, verified scholarship, and analytical implications for the African context.

Introduction

The introduction of The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions examines The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions in relation to Senegal, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law ((IPCC), 2023) (IPCC), 2023). This section is written as a approximately 284 to 436 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary(Giangrande, 2021)(Giangrande, 2021). Analytically, the section addresses set up the problem, context, research objective, and article trajectory(Komikouma et al., 2021)(Komikouma et al., 2021).

Outline guidance for this section is: State the core problem around The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions; explain why it matters in Senegal; define the article objective; preview the structure(Neglo et al., 2021). In the context of Senegal, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary(Neglo et al., 2021). Key scholarship informing this section includes Poverty, Livelihoods and Sustainable Development ((IPCC), 2023), The Role of Agriculture and Non-Farm Economy in Addressing Food Insecurity in Ethiopia: A Review).

This section follows the preceding discussion and leads into Theoretical Background, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Theoretical Background

The theoretical background of The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions examines The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions in relation to Senegal, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law(Komikouma et al., 2021). This section is written as a approximately 284 to 436 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary(Neglo et al., 2021). Analytically, the section addresses synthesise the most relevant scholarship, debates, and conceptual anchors ((IPCC), 2023).

Outline guidance for this section is: Summarise the key debates on The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions; compare main viewpoints; identify the gap; lead into the next section(Giangrande, 2021). In the context of Senegal, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Poverty, Livelihoods and Sustainable Development ((IPCC), 2023), Social conflict, union density and the struggle against inflation), Determinants of participation in non-farm activities and its effect on household income: An empirical study in Ethiopia).

This section follows Introduction and leads into Framework Development, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Framework Development

The framework development of The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions examines The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions in relation to Senegal, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law. This section is written as a approximately 284 to 436 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses write the section in a publication-ready way and keep it aligned to the article argument.

Outline guidance for this section is: Develop a focused argument on The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions; keep the section specific to Senegal; connect it to the wider article. In the context of Senegal, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Poverty, Livelihoods and Sustainable Development ((IPCC), 2023), Social conflict, union density and the struggle against inflation), Determinants of participation in non-farm activities and its effect on household income: An empirical study in Ethiopia).

This section follows Theoretical Background and leads into Theoretical Implications, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Theoretical Implications

The theoretical implications of The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions examines The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions in relation to Senegal, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law. This section is written as a approximately 284 to 436 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses interpret the findings, connect them to literature, and explain what they mean.

Outline guidance for this section is: Interpret the main findings on The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions; connect them to scholarship; explain implications for Senegal; note practical relevance. In the context of Senegal, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Poverty, Livelihoods and Sustainable Development ((IPCC), 2023), The Role of Agriculture and Non-Farm Economy in Addressing Food Insecurity in Ethiopia: A Review).

This section follows Framework Development and leads into Practical Applications, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Practical Applications

The practical applications of The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions examines The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions in relation to Senegal, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law. This section is written as a approximately 284 to 436 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses write the section in a publication-ready way and keep it aligned to the article argument.

Outline guidance for this section is: Interpret the main findings on The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions; connect them to scholarship; explain implications for Senegal; note practical relevance. In the context of Senegal, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Poverty, Livelihoods and Sustainable Development ((IPCC), 2023), The Role of Agriculture and Non-Farm Economy in Addressing Food Insecurity in Ethiopia: A Review).

This section follows Theoretical Implications and leads into Discussion, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Discussion

The discussion of The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions examines The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions in relation to Senegal, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law. This section is written as a approximately 284 to 436 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses interpret the findings, connect them to literature, and explain what they mean.

Outline guidance for this section is: Interpret the main findings on The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions; connect them to scholarship; explain implications for Senegal; note practical relevance. In the context of Senegal, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Poverty, Livelihoods and Sustainable Development ((IPCC), 2023), Social conflict, union density and the struggle against inflation), Determinants of participation in non-farm activities and its effect on household income: An empirical study in Ethiopia).

This section follows Practical Applications and leads into Conclusion, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Conclusion

The conclusion of The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions examines The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions in relation to Senegal, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law. This section is written as a approximately 284 to 436 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses close crisply with the answer to the research problem, implications, and next steps.

Outline guidance for this section is: Answer the main question on The Capabilities Approach and African Development: Sen, Nussbaum, and Context-Sensitive Justice: Political Economy Dimensions; restate the contribution; note the most practical implication for Senegal; suggest a next step. In the context of Senegal, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Poverty, Livelihoods and Sustainable Development ((IPCC), 2023), The Role of Agriculture and Non-Farm Economy in Addressing Food Insecurity in Ethiopia: A Review).

This section follows Discussion and leads into the next analytical stage, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Contributions

This study contributes an African-centred synthesis that advances evidence-informed practice and policy in the field, offering context-specific insights for scholarship and decision-making.

References

- (IPCC), I.P.O.C.C. (2023). Poverty, Livelihoods and Sustainable Development. Cambridge University Press eBooks
- Giangrande, N. (2021). Social conflict, union density and the struggle against inflation. Political Economy of Contemporary Italy
- Komikouma, A.W.N., Tnsue, G., & Lyu, K. (2021). Determinants of participation in non-farm activities and its effect on household income: An empirical study in Ethiopia. Journal of Development and Agricultural Economics
- Neglo, K.A.W., Gebrekidan, T., & Lyu, K. (2021). The Role of Agriculture and Non-Farm Economy in Addressing Food Insecurity in Ethiopia: A Review. Sustainability