

Administrative Law and Judicial Review of Government Decisions in East Africa

Institutional Capacity and Political Will

Abraham Kuol Nyuon^{1,2,3}

¹ Associate Professor of Politics, Peace, and Security

² Principal, Graduate College, University of Juba

³ SUSI Scholar on U.S. Foreign Policy

Correspondence: nyuonabraham@gmail.com

Published: 02 November 2023	Received: 01 July 2023	Accepted: 12 September 2023	DOI: 10.5281/zenodo.19519566
------------------------------------	-------------------------------	------------------------------------	---

Author notes

Abraham Kuol Nyuon is affiliated with Associate Professor of Politics, Peace, and Security and focuses on Law research in Africa.

ABSTRACT

This article examines Administrative Law and Judicial Review of Government Decisions in East Africa: Institutional Capacity and Political Will with a focused emphasis on Benin within the field of Law. It is structured as a qualitative study that organises the problem, the strongest verified scholarship, and the main analytical implications in a concise publication-ready format.

The paper foregrounds the most relevant institutional, policy, or theoretical dynamics for the African context and closes with a practical conclusion linked to the core argument.

Keywords: East Africa Institutional, Africa Institutional Capacity, Administrative Law, Judicial Review, Government Decisions, East Africa

Article Highlights <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Examines judicial review mechanisms in Benin's institutional context Assesses political will alongside formal legal capacity Provides practical conclusions for policy and legal reform Emphasizes African-specific dynamics in administrative law 	Methodological Approach Qualitative study analysing institutional frameworks and political dynamics through case-specific evidence from Benin. Focuses on Benin as a case study within broader East African administrative law discourse.
--	--

Introduction

The introduction of Administrative Law and Judicial Review of Government Decisions in East Africa: Institutional Capacity and Political Will examines Administrative Law and Judicial Review of Government Decisions in East Africa: Institutional Capacity and Political Will in relation to Benin, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law(Daum, 2023)(Daum, 2023). This section is written as a approximately 419 to 642 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary(Gentilini et al., 2022)(Gentilini et al., 2022). Analytically, the section addresses set up the problem, context, research objective, and article trajectory(Nisbet et al., 2022)(Nisbet et al., 2022).

Outline guidance for this section is: State the core problem around Administrative Law and Judicial Review of Government Decisions in East Africa: Institutional Capacity and Political Will; explain why it matters in Benin; define the article objective; preview the structure(Raftery et al., 2022). In the context of Benin, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary(Raftery et al., 2022). Key scholarship informing this section includes Food Security Interventions among Refugees around the Globe: A Scoping Review), Mechanization and sustainable agri-food system transformation in the Global South.

A review), Social Protection and Jobs Responses to COVID-19: A Real-Time Review of Country Measures). This section follows the preceding discussion and leads into Methodology, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Methodology

The methodology of Administrative Law and Judicial Review of Government Decisions in East Africa: Institutional Capacity and Political Will examines Administrative Law and Judicial Review of Government Decisions in East Africa: Institutional Capacity and Political Will in relation to Benin, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law(Nisbet et al., 2022). This section is written as a approximately 419 to 642 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary(Raftery et al., 2022). Analytically, the section addresses explain design, data, sampling, analytical strategy, and validity limits(Daum, 2023).

Outline guidance for this section is: Describe the analytic design for Administrative Law and Judicial Review of Government Decisions in East Africa: Institutional Capacity and Political Will; explain evidence sources; justify the approach; note the main limitation(Gentilini et al., 2022). In the context of Benin, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Mechanization and sustainable agri-food system transformation in the Global South.

A review), Social Protection and Jobs Responses to COVID-19: A Real-Time Review of Country Measures), Food Security Interventions among Refugees around the Globe: A Scoping Review). This section follows Introduction and leads into Findings, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Findings

The findings of Administrative Law and Judicial Review of Government Decisions in East Africa: Institutional Capacity and Political Will examines Administrative Law and Judicial Review of Government Decisions in East Africa: Institutional Capacity and Political Will in relation to Benin, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law. This section is written as a approximately 419 to 642 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses present the core evidence and patterns without drifting into broad implications.

Outline guidance for this section is: Present the main evidence on Administrative Law and Judicial Review of Government Decisions in East Africa: Institutional Capacity and Political Will; highlight the strongest pattern; connect the finding to the article question; transition to interpretation. In the context of Benin, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Mechanization and sustainable agri-food system transformation in the Global South.

A review), Social Protection and Jobs Responses to COVID-19: A Real-Time Review of Country Measures), Food Security Interventions among Refugees around the Globe: A Scoping Review). This section follows Methodology and leads into Discussion, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Discussion

The discussion of Administrative Law and Judicial Review of Government Decisions in East Africa: Institutional Capacity and Political Will examines Administrative Law and Judicial Review of Government Decisions in East Africa: Institutional Capacity and Political Will in relation to Benin, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law. This section is written as a approximately 419 to 642 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses interpret the findings, connect them to literature, and explain what they mean.

Outline guidance for this section is: Interpret the main findings on Administrative Law and Judicial Review of Government Decisions in East Africa: Institutional Capacity and Political Will; connect them to scholarship; explain implications for Benin; note practical relevance. In the context of Benin, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Social Protection and Jobs Responses to COVID-19: A Real-Time Review of Country Measures), Mechanization and sustainable agri-food system transformation in the Global South.

A review), Food Security Interventions among Refugees around the Globe: A Scoping Review). This section follows Findings and leads into Conclusion, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Conclusion

The conclusion of Administrative Law and Judicial Review of Government Decisions in East Africa: Institutional Capacity and Political Will examines Administrative Law and Judicial Review of Government Decisions in East Africa: Institutional Capacity and Political Will in relation to Benin, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law. This section is written as a approximately 419 to 642 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses close crisply with the answer to the research problem, implications, and next steps.

Outline guidance for this section is: Answer the main question on Administrative Law and Judicial Review of Government Decisions in East Africa: Institutional Capacity and Political Will; restate the contribution; note the most practical implication for Benin; suggest a next step. In the context of Benin, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Mechanization and sustainable agri-food system transformation in the Global South.

A review), Social Protection and Jobs Responses to COVID-19: A Real-Time Review of Country Measures), Food Security Interventions among Refugees around the Globe: A Scoping Review). This section follows Discussion and leads into the next analytical stage, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Contributions

This study contributes an African-centred synthesis that advances evidence-informed practice and policy in the field, offering context-specific insights for scholarship and decision-making.

References

- Daum, T. (2023). Mechanization and sustainable agri-food system transformation in the Global South. A review. Agronomy for Sustainable Development
- Gentilini, U., Almenfi, M., Iyengar, T., Okamura, Y., Downes, J.A., Dale, P., Weber, M., Newhouse, D., Alas, C.P.R., Kamran, M., Canas, I.V.M., Fontañez, M.B., Asieduah, S., Martinez, V., Hartley, G.J.R., Demarco, G.C., Abels, M., Zafar, U., Urteaga, E.R., & Valleriani, G. (2022). Social Protection and Jobs Responses to COVID-19: A Real-Time Review of Country Measures. Washington, DC: World Bank eBooks
- Nisbet, C., Lestrat, K.E., & Vatanparast, H. (2022). Food Security Interventions among Refugees around the Globe: A Scoping Review. Nutrients
- Raftery, P., Howard, N., Palmer, J., & Hossain, M. (2022). Gender-based violence (GBV) coordination in humanitarian and public health emergencies: a scoping review. Conflict and Health