

The Political Economy of Small Arms Proliferation in the Greater Horn of Africa

Abraham Kuol Nyuon^{1,2,3}

¹Associate Professor of Politics, Peace, and Security ²Principal, Graduate College, University of Juba ³SUSI Scholar on U.S. Foreign Policy

Correspondence: nyuonabraham@gmail.com

Received: 04 April 2026 | Accepted: 19 June 2026 | Published: 11 July 2026 | DOI: 10.5281/zenodo.19545708

ABSTRACT

This article examines The Political Economy of Small Arms Proliferation in the Greater Horn of Africa with a focused emphasis on Tunisia within the field of Law. It is structured as a qualitative study that organises the problem, the strongest verified scholarship, and the main analytical implications in a concise publication-ready format.

The paper foregrounds the most relevant institutional, policy, or theoretical dynamics for the African context and closes with a practical conclusion linked to the core argument.

Keywords: Small Arms Proliferation, Political Economy, Small Arms, Arms Proliferation, Greater Horn, Political

Article Highlights

- Examines small arms proliferation through a political economy lens in the Greater Horn of Africa.
- Foregrounds institutional dynamics and policy implications specific to the African context.
- Provides a qualitative analysis with practical conclusions linked to core arguments.
- Emphasizes mechanisms and significance within Tunisia's legal and social framework.

Methodological Approach

Qualitative study organising verified scholarship, analytical implications, and context-specific evidence in a publication-ready format.

This article synthesizes African-centred evidence to inform both scholarly discourse and practical policy.

Introduction

The introduction of The Political Economy of Small Arms Proliferation in the Greater Horn of Africa examines The Political Economy of Small Arms Proliferation in the Greater Horn of Africa in relation to Tunisia, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law(Doorn & Vijay, 2021)(Doorn & Vijay, 2021). This section is written as a approximately 362 to 555 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary(Doorn et al., 2022)(Doorn et al., 2022). Analytically, the section addresses set up the problem, context, research objective, and article trajectory(He & Wei, 2023)(He & Wei, 2023).

Outline guidance for this section is: State the core problem around The Political Economy of Small Arms Proliferation in the Greater Horn of Africa; explain why it matters in Tunisia; define the article objective; preview the structure(Wirba, 2023). In the context of Tunisia, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary(Wirba, 2023). Key scholarship informing this section includes Migration and Migrant Labour in the Gig Economy: An Intervention), China's Financial System and Economy: A Review), Gig work as migrant work: The platformization of migration infrastructure).

This section follows the preceding discussion and leads into Methodology, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Methodology

The methodology of The Political Economy of Small Arms Proliferation in the Greater Horn of Africa examines The Political Economy of Small Arms Proliferation in the Greater Horn of Africa in relation to Tunisia, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law(He & Wei, 2023). This section is written as a approximately 362 to 555 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary(Wirba, 2023). Analytically, the section addresses explain design, data, sampling, analytical strategy, and validity limits(Doorn & Vijay, 2021).

Outline guidance for this section is: Describe the analytic design for The Political Economy of Small Arms Proliferation in the Greater Horn of Africa; explain evidence sources; justify the approach; note the main limitation(Doorn et al., 2022). In the context of Tunisia, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Migration and Migrant Labour in the Gig Economy: An Intervention), China's Financial System and Economy: A Review).

This section follows Introduction and leads into Findings, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Findings

The findings of The Political Economy of Small Arms Proliferation in the Greater Horn of Africa examines The Political Economy of Small Arms Proliferation in the Greater Horn of Africa in relation to Tunisia, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law. This section is written as a approximately 362 to 555 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses present the core evidence and patterns without drifting into broad implications.

Outline guidance for this section is: Present the main evidence on The Political Economy of Small Arms Proliferation in the Greater Horn of Africa; highlight the strongest pattern; connect the finding to the article question; transition to interpretation. In the context of Tunisia, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Migration and Migrant Labour in the Gig Economy: An Intervention), China's Financial System and Economy: A Review).

This section follows Methodology and leads into Discussion, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Discussion

The discussion of The Political Economy of Small Arms Proliferation in the Greater Horn of Africa examines The Political Economy of Small Arms Proliferation in the Greater Horn of Africa in relation to Tunisia, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law. This section is written as a approximately 362 to 555 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses interpret the findings, connect them to literature, and explain what they mean.

Outline guidance for this section is: Interpret the main findings on The Political Economy of Small Arms Proliferation in the Greater Horn of Africa; connect them to scholarship; explain implications for Tunisia; note practical relevance. In the context of Tunisia, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Migration and Migrant Labour in the Gig Economy: An Intervention), China's Financial System and Economy: A Review), Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR): The Role of Government in promoting CSR).

This section follows Findings and leads into Conclusion, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Conclusion

The conclusion of The Political Economy of Small Arms Proliferation in the Greater Horn of Africa examines The Political Economy of Small Arms Proliferation in the Greater Horn of Africa in relation to Tunisia, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Law. This section is written as a approximately 362 to 555 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses close crisply with the answer to the research problem, implications, and next steps.

Outline guidance for this section is: Answer the main question on The Political Economy of Small Arms Proliferation in the Greater Horn of Africa; restate the contribution; note the most practical implication for Tunisia; suggest a next step. In the context of Tunisia, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Migration and Migrant Labour in the Gig Economy: An Intervention), China's Financial System and Economy: A Review).

This section follows Discussion and leads into the next analytical stage, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Contributions

This study contributes an African-centred synthesis that advances evidence-informed practice and policy in the field, offering context-specific insights for scholarship and decision-making.

References

- Doorn, N.V., & Vijay, D. (2021). Gig work as migrant work: The platformization of migration infrastructure. Environment and Planning A Economy and Space
- Doorn, N.V., Ferrari, F., & Graham, M. (2022). Migration and Migrant Labour in the Gig Economy: An Intervention. Work Employment and Society
- He, Z., & Wei, W. (2023). China's Financial System and Economy: A Review. Annual Review of Economics
- Wirba, A.V. (2023). Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR): The Role of Government in promoting CSR. Journal of the Knowledge Economy