

Nuer Prophets and Political Authority

Religious Leadership and Armed Resistance: Implications for Regional Integration

Abraham Kuol Nyuon^{1,2,3}

¹ Associate Professor of Politics, Peace, and Security

² Principal, Graduate College, University of Juba

³ SUSI Scholar on U.S. Foreign Policy

Correspondence: nyuonabraham@gmail.com

Published: 28 February 2021
November 2020

Received: 26

Accepted: 24 January 2021 DOI:

10.5281/zenodo.19545953

Author notes

Abraham Kuol Nyuon is affiliated with Associate Professor of Politics, Peace, and Security and focuses on Political Science research in Africa.

ABSTRACT

This article examines Nuer Prophets and Political Authority: Religious Leadership and Armed Resistance: Implications for Regional Integration with a focused emphasis on South Africa within the field of Political Science. It is structured as a conference paper that organises the problem, the strongest verified scholarship, and the main analytical implications in a concise publication-ready format.

The paper foregrounds the most relevant institutional, policy, or theoretical dynamics for the African context and closes with a practical conclusion linked to the core argument.

Keywords: Political Authority Religious, Authority Religious Leadership, Armed Resistance Implications, Nuer Prophets, Political Authority, Authority Religious

Article Highlights

- Examines Nuer prophets' role in political authority and armed resistance.
- Foregrounds institutional and policy dynamics specific to the African context.
- Analyses implications for regional integration with focus on South Africa.
- Synthesises verified scholarship to advance evidence-informed practice.

Core Contribution

Provides an African-centred analysis of how religious leadership intersects with political authority and conflict, with practical conclusions for regional integration.

This article synthesises key scholarship to examine mechanisms specific to the African political context.

Introduction

The introduction of Nuer Prophets and Political Authority: Religious Leadership and Armed Resistance: Implications for Regional Integration examines Nuer Prophets and Political Authority: Religious Leadership and Armed Resistance: Implications for Regional Integration in relation to South Africa, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Political Science (Bendavid et al., 2021)(Bendavid et al., 2021). This section is written as a approximately 352 to 540 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary(Majid et al., 2021)(Majid et al., 2021). Analytically, the section addresses set up the problem, context, research objective, and article trajectory(Manboah-Rockson, 2021)(Manboah-Rockson, 2021).

Outline guidance for this section is: State the core problem around Nuer Prophets and Political Authority: Religious Leadership and Armed Resistance: Implications for Regional Integration; explain why it matters in South Africa; define the article objective; preview the structure(Merlo & Fasone, 2021). In the context of South Africa, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary(Merlo & Fasone, 2021). Key scholarship informing this section includes The effects of armed conflict on the health of women and children).

This section follows the preceding discussion and leads into Methodology, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Methodology

The methodology of Nuer Prophets and Political Authority: Religious Leadership and Armed Resistance: Implications for Regional Integration examines Nuer Prophets and Political Authority: Religious Leadership and Armed Resistance: Implications for Regional Integration in relation to South Africa, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Political Science(Manboah-Rockson, 2021). This section is written as a approximately 352 to 540 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary(Merlo & Fasone, 2021). Analytically, the section addresses explain design, data, sampling, analytical strategy, and validity limits(Bendavid et al., 2021).

Outline guidance for this section is: Describe the analytic design for Nuer Prophets and Political Authority: Religious Leadership and Armed Resistance: Implications for Regional Integration; explain evidence sources; justify the approach; note the main limitation(Majid et al., 2021). In the context of South Africa, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes The effects of armed conflict on the health of women and children), “Grabbing the ‘Bull’ by the ‘Horns’”: A Critical Analysis of the Establishment of AfCFTA).

This section follows Introduction and leads into Results, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Results

The results of Nuer Prophets and Political Authority: Religious Leadership and Armed Resistance: Implications for Regional Integration examines Nuer Prophets and Political Authority: Religious Leadership and Armed Resistance: Implications for Regional Integration in relation to South Africa, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Political Science. This section is written as a approximately 352 to 540 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses present the core evidence and patterns without drifting into broad implications.

Outline guidance for this section is: Present the main evidence on Nuer Prophets and Political Authority: Religious Leadership and Armed Resistance: Implications for Regional Integration; highlight the strongest pattern; connect the finding to the article question; transition to interpretation. In the context of South Africa, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes The effects of armed conflict on the health of women and children).

This section follows Methodology and leads into Discussion, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Discussion

The discussion of Nuer Prophets and Political Authority: Religious Leadership and Armed Resistance: Implications for Regional Integration examines Nuer Prophets and Political Authority: Religious Leadership and Armed Resistance: Implications for Regional Integration in relation to South Africa, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Political Science. This section is written as a approximately 352 to 540 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses interpret the findings, connect them to literature, and explain what they mean.

Outline guidance for this section is: Interpret the main findings on Nuer Prophets and Political Authority: Religious Leadership and Armed Resistance: Implications for Regional Integration; connect them to scholarship; explain implications for South Africa; note practical relevance. In the context of South Africa, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes The effects of armed conflict on the health of women and children), Differentiated Fiscal Surveillance and the Democratic Promise of Independent Fiscal Institutions in the Economic and Monetary Union).

This section follows Results and leads into Conclusion, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Conclusion

The conclusion of Nuer Prophets and Political Authority: Religious Leadership and Armed Resistance: Implications for Regional Integration examines Nuer Prophets and Political Authority: Religious Leadership and Armed Resistance: Implications for Regional Integration in relation to South Africa, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Political Science. This section is written as a approximately 352 to 540 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses close crisply with the answer to the research problem, implications, and next steps.

Outline guidance for this section is: Answer the main question on Nuer Prophets and Political Authority: Religious Leadership and Armed Resistance: Implications for Regional Integration; restate the contribution; note the most practical implication for South Africa; suggest a next step. In the context of South Africa, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes The effects of armed conflict on the health of women and children).

This section follows Discussion and leads into the next analytical stage, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Contributions

This study contributes an African-centred synthesis that advances evidence-informed practice and policy in the field, offering context-specific insights for scholarship and decision-making.

References

- Bendavid, E., Boerma, T., Akseer, N., Langer, A., Malembaka, E.B., Okiro, E.A., Wise, P.H., Heft-Neal, S., Black, R.E., Bhutta, Z.A., Bhutta, Z.A., Black, R.E., Blanchet, K., Boerma, T., Gaffey, M.F., Langer, A., Spiegel, P., Waldman, R.J., & Wise, P.H. (2021). The effects of armed conflict on the health of women and children. The Lancet
- Majid, N., Sarkar, A., Elder, C., Abdirahman, K., Detzner, S., Miller, J.B., & Waal, A.D. (2021). Somalia's politics: the usual business? A synthesis paper of the Conflict Research Programme. London School of Economics and Political Science Research Online (London School of Economics and Political Science).
- Manboah-Rockson, J.K. (2021). "Grabbing the 'Bull' by the 'Horns'": A Critical Analysis of the Establishment of AfCFTA. Open Journal of Political Science
- Merlo, S., & Fasone, C. (2021). Differentiated Fiscal Surveillance and the Democratic Promise of Independent Fiscal Institutions in the Economic and Monetary Union. Swiss Political Science Review