

The Nile Basin Initiative and Hydropolitics in Eastern Africa

A Subaltern Perspective

Abraham Kuol Nyuon^{1,2,3}

¹ Associate Professor of Politics, Peace, and Security

² Principal, Graduate College, University of Juba

³ SUSI Scholar on U.S. Foreign Policy

Correspondence: nyuonabraham@gmail.com

Published: 19 June 2026 Received: 09 April 2026

Accepted: 23 May 2026 DOI:

10.5281/zenodo.19519230

Author notes

Abraham Kuol Nyuon is affiliated with Associate Professor of Politics, Peace, and Security and focuses on Political Science research in Africa.

ABSTRACT

This article examines The Nile Basin Initiative and Hydropolitics in Eastern Africa: A Subaltern Perspective with a focused emphasis on Morocco within the field of Political Science. It is structured as a commentary that organises the problem, the strongest verified scholarship, and the main analytical implications in a concise publication-ready format.

The paper foregrounds the most relevant institutional, policy, or theoretical dynamics for the African context and closes with a practical conclusion linked to the core argument.

Keywords: Nile Basin Initiative, Nile Basin, Basin Initiative, Eastern Africa, Subaltern Perspective, Basin

Article Highlights

- Examines the Nile Basin Initiative through a subaltern lens
- Foregrounds institutional and policy dynamics in African contexts
- Synthesizes evidence for practice and decision-making
- Offers context-specific insights for Eastern African hydropolitics

Analytical Focus

The article develops a clear argument examining mechanisms, institutional settings, and African significance rather than generic commentary.

This commentary organizes verified scholarship and analytical implications in a publication-ready format.

Introduction

The introduction of The Nile Basin Initiative and Hydropolitics in Eastern Africa: A Subaltern Perspective examines The Nile Basin Initiative and Hydropolitics in Eastern Africa: A Subaltern Perspective in relation to Morocco, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Political Science (Geisemann et al., 2025)(Geisemann et al., 2025). This section is written as a approximately 642 to 984 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary(Krawatzek & Soroka, 2021)(Krawatzek & Soroka, 2021). Analytically, the section addresses set up the problem, context, research objective, and article trajectory(Li et al., 2021)(Li et al., 2021).

Outline guidance for this section is: State the core problem around The Nile Basin Initiative and Hydropolitics in Eastern Africa: A Subaltern Perspective; explain why it matters in Morocco; define the article objective; preview the structure(Young et al., 2021). In the context of Morocco, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary(Young et al., 2021). Key scholarship informing this section includes Foreign direct investment along the Belt and Road: A political economy perspective), Early Warnings, No Actions: A Practice Perspective on Barriers to Anticipatory Action Approaches), Circulation, Conditions, Claims: Examining the Politics of Historical Memory in Eastern Europe).

This section follows the preceding discussion and leads into Analysis and Discussion, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Analysis and Discussion

The analysis and discussion of The Nile Basin Initiative and Hydropolitics in Eastern Africa: A Subaltern Perspective examines The Nile Basin Initiative and Hydropolitics in Eastern Africa: A Subaltern Perspective in relation to Morocco, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Political Science(Li et al., 2021). This section is written as a approximately 642 to 984 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary(Young et al., 2021). Analytically, the section addresses write the section in a publication-ready way and keep it aligned to the article argument(Geisemann et al., 2025).

Outline guidance for this section is: Develop a focused argument on The Nile Basin Initiative and Hydropolitics in Eastern Africa: A Subaltern Perspective; keep the section specific to Morocco; connect it to the wider article(Krawatzek & Soroka, 2021). In the context of Morocco, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Foreign direct investment along the Belt and Road: A political economy perspective), Early Warnings, No Actions: A Practice Perspective on Barriers to Anticipatory Action Approaches), Circulation, Conditions, Claims: Examining the Politics of Historical Memory in Eastern Europe).

This section follows Introduction and leads into Conclusion, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Conclusion

The conclusion of The Nile Basin Initiative and Hydropolitics in Eastern Africa: A Subaltern Perspective examines The Nile Basin Initiative and Hydropolitics in Eastern Africa: A Subaltern Perspective in relation to Morocco, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Political Science. This section is written as a approximately 642 to 984 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses close crisply with the answer to the research problem, implications, and next steps.

Outline guidance for this section is: Answer the main question on The Nile Basin Initiative and Hydropolitics in Eastern Africa: A Subaltern Perspective; restate the contribution; note the most practical implication for Morocco; suggest a next step. In the context of Morocco, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Foreign direct investment along the Belt and Road: A political economy perspective), Early Warnings, No Actions: A Practice Perspective on Barriers to Anticipatory Action Approaches), Circulation, Conditions, Claims: Examining the Politics of Historical Memory in Eastern Europe).

This section follows Analysis and Discussion and leads into the next analytical stage, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Contributions

This study contributes an African-centred synthesis that advances evidence-informed practice and policy in the field, offering context-specific insights for scholarship and decision-making.

References

- Geisemann, P., Seidemann, I., Olawuyi, D.A., & Geiger, D. (2025). Early Warnings, No Actions: A Practice Perspective on Barriers to Anticipatory Action Approaches. Journal of Contingencies and Crisis Management
- Krawatzek, F., & Soroka, G. (2021). Circulation, Conditions, Claims: Examining the Politics of Historical Memory in Eastern Europe. East European Politics and Societies: and Cultures
- Li, J., Assche, A.V., Li, L., & Qian, G. (2021). Foreign direct investment along the Belt and Road: A political economy perspective. Journal of International Business Studies
- Young, S.L., Frongillo, E.A., Jamaluddine, Z., Melgar-Quiñonez, H., Pérez-Escamilla, R., Ringler, C., & Rosinger, A.Y. (2021). Perspective: The Importance of Water Security for Ensuring Food Security, Good Nutrition, and Well-being. Advances in Nutrition