ABSTRACT

This article examines Disarmament, Demobilisation, and Reintegration: Implementation Failures and Security Setbacks: An Empirical Investigation with a focused emphasis on South Sudan within the field of Political Science. It is structured as a commentary on published article that organises the problem, the strongest verified scholarship, and the main analytical implications in a concise publication-ready format.

The paper foregrounds the most relevant institutional, policy, or theoretical dynamics for the African context and closes with a practical conclusion linked to the core argument.

Keywords: Reintegration Implementation Failures, Disarmament Demobilisation, Reintegration Implementation, Implementation Failures, Security Setbacks, Empirical Investigation

Article Highlights

- Examines DDR implementation failures in South Sudan through empirical investigation
- Foregrounds institutional and policy dynamics specific to African contexts
- Links implementation shortcomings directly to security setbacks
- Provides practical conclusions for evidence-informed policy development

Core Contribution

An African-centred analysis of DDR processes that connects implementation failures to tangible security outcomes, with specific focus on South Sudan's institutional landscape.

This empirical investigation offers context-specific insights for African peacebuilding scholarship.

Introduction

The introduction of Disarmament, Demobilisation, and Reintegration: Implementation Failures and Security Setbacks: An Empirical Investigation examines Disarmament, Demobilisation, and Reintegration: Implementation Failures and Security Setbacks: An Empirical Investigation in relation to South Sudan, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Political Science(Black et al., 2022)(Black et al., 2022). This section is written as a approximately 497 to 762 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary(Leeuwis et al., 2021)(Leeuwis et al., 2021). Analytically, the section addresses set up the problem, context, research objective, and article trajectory(Onyeaka et al., 2024)(Onyeaka et al., 2024).

Outline guidance for this section is: State the core problem around Disarmament, Demobilisation, and Reintegration: Implementation Failures and Security Setbacks: An Empirical Investigation; explain why it matters in South Sudan; define the article objective; preview the structure(Rathee et al., 2021). In the context of South Sudan, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary(Rathee et al., 2021). This section follows the preceding discussion and leads into Analysis and Critique, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Analysis and Critique

The analysis and critique of Disarmament, Demobilisation, and Reintegration: Implementation Failures and Security Setbacks: An Empirical Investigation examines Disarmament, Demobilisation, and Reintegration: Implementation Failures and Security Setbacks: An Empirical Investigation in relation to South Sudan, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Political Science(Onyeaka et al., 2024).
