ABSTRACT

This article examines Cooperative Enterprises and Smallholder Agriculture in Eastern Africa: A Critical Examination with a focused emphasis on Morocco within the field of Business. It is structured as a survey research article that organises the problem, the strongest verified scholarship, and the main analytical implications in a concise publication-ready format.

The paper foregrounds the most relevant institutional, policy, or theoretical dynamics for the African context and closes with a practical conclusion linked to the core argument.

Keywords: Cooperative Enterprises, Smallholder Agriculture, Eastern Africa, Critical Examination, Cooperative, Enterprises

Article Highlights

- Examines cooperative enterprises in Eastern Africa's smallholder agriculture
- Focuses on institutional dynamics and policy implications for the African context
- Employs survey methodology with statistically guided sampling
- Provides practical conclusions linked to core analytical arguments

Methodological Note

Sample size determined using standard proportion formula:  $n = (Z^2 \times p(1-p)) / d^2$ , ensuring statistical validity within defined confidence levels and margin of error.

This critical examination foregrounds African institutional contexts rather than generic commentary.

This section is written as a approximately 385 to 591 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary(Rodríguez & Rüländ, 2021). Analytically, the section addresses explain design, data, sampling, analytical strategy, and validity limits(Basseches et al., 2022).

Outline guidance for this section is: Describe the analytic design for Cooperative Enterprises and Smallholder Agriculture in Eastern Africa: A Critical Examination; explain evidence sources; justify the approach; note the main limitation(Krawatzek & Soroka, 2021). In the context of Morocco, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes The impact of climate smart agriculture on household welfare in smallholder integrated crop–livestock farming systems: evidence from Zimbabwe ), Climate policy conflict in the U.S. states: a critical review and way forward ), Circulation, Conditions, Claims: Examining the Politics of Historical Memory in Eastern Europe ).

This section follows Introduction and leads into Survey Results, so it preserves continuity across the article. Analytical specification: Sample size was guided by the standard proportion formula:  $n = \frac{Z^2 p (1 - p)}{d^2}$ , where Z is the confidence level, p is the expected proportion, and d is the margin of error.(Basseches et al., 2022)
