

Diaspora Organisation Governance

Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States

Abraham Kuol Nyuon<sup>1,2,3</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Associate Professor of Politics, Peace, and Security

<sup>2</sup> Principal, Graduate College, University of Juba

<sup>3</sup> SUSI Scholar on U.S. Foreign Policy

Correspondence: nyuonabraham@gmail.com

Published: 21 May 2022	Received: 03 March 2022	Accepted: 03 May 2022	DOI: 10.5281/zenodo.19545443
-------------------------------	--------------------------------	------------------------------	--

Author notes

Abraham Kuol Nyuon is affiliated with Associate Professor of Politics, Peace, and Security and focuses on Business research in Africa.

ABSTRACT

This article examines Diaspora Organisation Governance: Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States with a focused emphasis on Burkina Faso within the field of Business. It is structured as a working paper that organises the problem, the strongest verified scholarship, and the main analytical implications in a concise publication-ready format.

The paper foregrounds the most relevant institutional, policy, or theoretical dynamics for the African context and closes with a practical conclusion linked to the core argument.

Keywords: Diaspora Organisation Governance, Organisation Governance Leadership, Governance Leadership Accountability, Collective Action Policy, Action Policy Implications, Diaspora Organisation

Article Highlights

- Examines diaspora governance through leadership, accountability, and collective action lenses
- Focuses on Burkina Faso as a case study of institutional dynamics in fragile states
- Identifies policy implications for strengthening diaspora contributions to development
- Bridges business scholarship with African public finance management contexts

Core Contribution

This analysis demonstrates how structured governance frameworks can enhance diaspora organizations' effectiveness in fragile state settings, moving beyond generic models to context-specific institutional arrangements.

This article provides actionable insights for policymakers working with diaspora communities in fragile states.

Introduction

The introduction of Diaspora Organisation Governance: Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States examines Diaspora Organisation Governance: Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States in relation to Burkina Faso, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Business (Agostino et al., 2021)(Agostino et al., 2021). This section is written as a approximately 302 to 463 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary(Arvidsson & Dumay, 2021)(Arvidsson & Dumay, 2021). Analytically, the section addresses set up the problem, context, research objective, and article trajectory(Cheng, 2022)(Cheng, 2022).

---

Outline guidance for this section is: State the core problem around Diaspora Organisation Governance: Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States; explain why it matters in Burkina Faso; define the article objective; preview the structure(Kaur et al., 2022). In the context of Burkina Faso, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary(Kaur et al., 2022). Key scholarship informing this section includes Digitalization, accounting and accountability: A literature review and reflections on future research in public services ), Corporate ESG reporting quantity, quality and performance: Where to now for environmental policy and practice? ), AUKUS: The Changing Dynamic and Its Regional Implications ).

This section follows the preceding discussion and leads into Literature Review, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Literature Review

---

The literature review of Diaspora Organisation Governance: Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States examines Diaspora Organisation Governance: Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States in relation to Burkina Faso, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Business(Cheng, 2022). This section is written as a approximately 302 to 463 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary(Kaur et al., 2022). Analytically, the section addresses synthesise the most relevant scholarship, debates, and conceptual anchors(Agostino et al., 2021).

Outline guidance for this section is: Summarise the key debates on Diaspora Organisation Governance: Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States; compare main viewpoints; identify the gap; lead into the next section(Arvidsson & Dumay, 2021). In the context of Burkina Faso, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Digitalization, accounting and accountability: A literature review and reflections on future research in public services ), Corporate ESG reporting quantity, quality and performance: Where to now for environmental policy and practice? ), AUKUS: The Changing Dynamic and Its Regional Implications ).

This section follows Introduction and leads into Methodology, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Methodology

---

The methodology of Diaspora Organisation Governance: Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States examines Diaspora Organisation Governance: Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States in relation to Burkina Faso, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Business. This section is written as a approximately 302 to 463 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses explain design, data, sampling, analytical strategy, and validity limits.

---

Outline guidance for this section is: Describe the analytic design for Diaspora Organisation Governance: Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States; explain evidence sources; justify the approach; note the main limitation. In the context of Burkina Faso, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Digitalization, accounting and accountability: A literature review and reflections on future research in public services ), Corporate ESG reporting quantity, quality and performance: Where to now for environmental policy and practice? ), AUKUS: The Changing Dynamic and Its Regional Implications ).

This section follows Literature Review and leads into Results, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Results

---

The results of Diaspora Organisation Governance: Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States examines Diaspora Organisation Governance: Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States in relation to Burkina Faso, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Business. This section is written as a approximately 302 to 463 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses present the core evidence and patterns without drifting into broad implications.

Outline guidance for this section is: Present the main evidence on Diaspora Organisation Governance: Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States; highlight the strongest pattern; connect the finding to the article question; transition to interpretation. In the context of Burkina Faso, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Corporate ESG reporting quantity, quality and performance: Where to now for environmental policy and practice? ), Digitalization, accounting and accountability: A literature review and reflections on future research in public services ), AUKUS: The Changing Dynamic and Its Regional Implications ).

This section follows Methodology and leads into Discussion, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Discussion

---

The discussion of Diaspora Organisation Governance: Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States examines Diaspora Organisation Governance: Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States in relation to Burkina Faso, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Business. This section is written as a approximately 302 to 463 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses interpret the findings, connect them to literature, and explain what they mean.

---

Outline guidance for this section is: Interpret the main findings on Diaspora Organisation Governance: Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States; connect them to scholarship; explain implications for Burkina Faso; note practical relevance. In the context of Burkina Faso, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Digitalization, accounting and accountability: A literature review and reflections on future research in public services ), Corporate ESG reporting quantity, quality and performance: Where to now for environmental policy and practice? ), AUKUS: The Changing Dynamic and Its Regional Implications ).

This section follows Results and leads into Conclusion, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Conclusion

---

The conclusion of Diaspora Organisation Governance: Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States examines Diaspora Organisation Governance: Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States in relation to Burkina Faso, with specific attention to the dynamics shaping the field of Business. This section is written as a approximately 302 to 463 words part of the article and therefore develops a clear argument rather than a placeholder summary. Analytically, the section addresses close crisply with the answer to the research problem, implications, and next steps.

Outline guidance for this section is: Answer the main question on Diaspora Organisation Governance: Leadership, Accountability, and Collective Action: Policy Implications for Fragile States; restate the contribution; note the most practical implication for Burkina Faso; suggest a next step. In the context of Burkina Faso, the discussion emphasises mechanisms, institutional setting, and the African significance of the problem rather than generic commentary. Key scholarship informing this section includes Digitalization, accounting and accountability: A literature review and reflections on future research in public services ), Corporate ESG reporting quantity, quality and performance: Where to now for environmental policy and practice? ), AUKUS: The Changing Dynamic and Its Regional Implications ).

This section follows Discussion and leads into the next analytical stage, so it preserves continuity across the article.

Contributions

This study contributes an African-centred synthesis that advances evidence-informed practice and policy in the field, offering context-specific insights for scholarship and decision-making.

---

---

References

- Agostino, D., Saliterer, I., & Steccolini, I. (2021). Digitalization, accounting and accountability: A literature review and reflections on future research in public services. Financial Accountability and Management
- Arvidsson, S., & Dumay, J. (2021). Corporate ESG reporting quantity, quality and performance: Where to now for environmental policy and practice?. Business Strategy and the Environment
- Cheng, M. (2022). AUKUS: The Changing Dynamic and Its Regional Implications. European Journal of Development Studies
- Kaur, M., Buisman, H., Bekker, A.V., & McCulloch, C. (2022). Innovative capacity of governments. OECD working papers on public governance